True False

12. A marketing strategy is composed of two interrelated parts--planning and implementation.

True False

13. The two parts of a marketing strategy are an attractive opportunity and a target market.

True False

14. A target market consists of a group of consumers who are usually quite different.

True False

15. A marketing mix consists of the uncontrollable variables which a company puts together to satisfy a target market.

True False

16. Target marketing aims a marketing mix at some specific target customers.

True False

17. Mass marketing means focusing on some specific customers, as opposed to assuming that everyone is the same and will want whatever the firm offers.

True False

18. The mass marketing approach is more production-oriented than marketing-oriented.

True False

19. The terms mass marketing and mass marketers mean the same thing.

True False

20. "Mass marketers" like Target usually try to aim at clearly defined target markets.

True False

21. The problem with target marketing is that it limits the firm to small market segments.

True False

22. Potential customers are all alike.

True False

23. The four "Ps" are: Product, Promotion, Price, and Personnel.

True False

24. The "four Ps" of the marketing mix are Product, Position, Promotion, and Price.

True False

25. The "four Ps" of the marketing mix are People, Products, Price, and Promotion.

True False

26. Product, Place, Promotion and Price are the four major variables (decision areas) in a firm's marketing mix.

True False

27. The customer is a part of the marketing mix and should be the target of all marketing efforts.

True False

28. Although the customer should be the target of all marketing efforts, customers are not part of a marketing mix.

True False

29. The customer should not be considered part of a "marketing mix."

True False

30. The Product area is concerned with developing the right physical good, service, or blend of both for the target market.

True False

31. According to the text, a firm that sells a service rather than a physical good does not have a product.

True False

32. The Product area of the marketing mix may involve a service and/or a physical good which satisfies some customers' needs.

True False

33. The Place decisions are concerned with getting the right product to the target market at the right time.

True False

34. Any series of firms (or individuals) from producer to final user or consumer is a channel of distribution.

True False

35. A channel of distribution is any series of firms or individuals that participate in the flow of products from producer to final user or consumer.

True False

36. A channel of distribution must include an intermediary.

True False

37. A channel of distribution must include several kinds of intermediaries and collaborators.

True False

38. Personal selling, mass selling, and sales promotion are all included in the Promotion area of the marketing mix.

True False

39. Promotion is composed of personal selling, advertising, publicity, and sales promotion.

True False

40. Personal selling involves direct personal communication to get the sale, but personal attention is seldom required after the sale.

True False

41. Customer service is needed when a customer wants the seller to resolve a problem with a purchase.

True False

42. Advertising is any paid form of nonpersonal presentation of ideas, goods, or services by an identified sponsor.

True False

43. Sales promotion can involve point-of-purchase materials, store signs, contests, catalogs, and circulars.

True False

44. Sales promotion refers to those promotion activities--other than advertising, publicity, and personal selling--that stimulate interest, trial, or purchase by final customers or others in the channel.

True False

45. Personal selling and advertising are both forms of sales promotion.

True False

46. According to the text, Promotion is the most important of the "four Ps."

True False

47. Price is the most important of the four Ps.

True False

48. In general, no single element of the "four Ps" is more important than the others.

True False

49. The marketing mix should be set before the best target market is selected.

True False

50. As in the Toddler University case, the needs of a target market virtually determine the nature of an appropriate marketing mix.

True False

51. A marketing plan and a marketing strategy mean the same thing.

True False

52. A marketing strategy and all the time-related details for carrying out the strategy is a "marketing plan."

True False

53. A marketing plan is a written statement of a marketing strategy and the time-related details for carrying out the strategy.

True False

54. Implementation means putting the marketing plan into operation.

True False

55. Short-run decisions that stay within the overall guidelines set during strategy planning are called implementation decisions.

True False

56. Marketing strategy planning should specify all of the operational decisions to implement the plan.

True False

57. Companies such as Campbell's can only implement one marketing strategy at a time.

True False

58. Most companies implement only one marketing strategy at a time.

True False

59. A marketing program blends all of the firm's marketing plans into one "big" plan and is the responsibility of the whole company.

True False

60. A "marketing program" blends all of a firm's marketing plans into one "big" plan.

True False

61. A marketing program may consist of several marketing plans.

True False

62. Customer lifetime value is the total stream of purchases that a customer could contribute to the company over the length of the relationship.

True False

63. Customer lifetime value is the expected earnings stream (profitability) of a firm's current and prospective customers over some period of time.

True False

64. Customer lifetime value involves a financial analysis that considers all of a customer's purchases over their lifetime.

True False

65. When a salesperson considers not only the sale they are making today, but all potential future sales to a customer, the salesperson recognizes a customer's lifetime value.

True False

66. A successful marketing program benefits the firm by increasing customer equity.

True False

67. A marketing program should lower customer equity.

True False

68. One way to increase customer equity is to find cost-effective ways to serve current customers so they buy more.

True False

69. One way to increase customer equity is to find cost-effective ways to add new customers for the firm's products.

True False

70. The best way to increase customer equity is to find cost-effective ways to increase earnings from current customers while bringing profitable new customers into the fold.

True False

71. An extremely good plan might be carried out badly and still be profitable, while a poor but well implemented plan can lose money.

True False

72. The U.S. auto industry has become much more marketing-oriented since Henry Ford introduced the Model T.

True False

73. Many U.S. automakers have failed because they were not marketing oriented.

True False

74. Managers who embrace the marketing concept realize that they cannot just define their line of business in terms of the products they currently produce or sell.

True False

75. The single most important factor in screening possible marketing opportunities is the long-run trends facing the company.

True False

76. Attractive opportunities for a particular firm are those that the firm has some chance of doing something about--given its resources and objectives.

True False

77. Attractive opportunities are those that the firm has some chance of doing something about given its resources and objectives

True False

78. A "breakthrough opportunity" is an opportunity that helps innovators develop long-term, hard-to-copy marketing strategies that will be very profitable.

True False

79. "Breakthrough opportunities" are ones that help innovators develop hard-to-copy marketing strategies that will be profitable for a long time.

True False

80. A firm with a "competitive advantage" has a marketing mix that the target market sees as better than a competitor's mix.

True False

81. Finding "competitive advantages" is important because they are needed for survival in increasingly competitive markets.

True False

82. It is useful to think of the marketing strategy planning process as a narrowing-down process.

True False

83. The marketing strategy planning process starts with a narrow look at a market, and becomes broader the closer the firm comes to developing a marketing mix.

True False

84. There are usually more different strategy possibilities than a firm can pursue.

True False

85. Developing a set of specific qualitative and quantitative screening criteria can help a manager define what business and markets the firm wants to compete in.

True False

86. A S.W.O.T. analysis is one way to zero in on a marketing strategy that is well-suited to the firm.

True False

87. A S.W.O.T. analysis identifies the "special weapons or tactics" used by the competitor in a product-market that has the most profitable marketing mix.

True False

88. S.W.O.T. analysis is based on the idea that one of the best ways to develop a strategy is to identify and copy the marketing "strategies, weapons, outlook, and tactics" of the firm's most effective competitor.

True False

89. A good S.W.O.T. analysis helps a manager focus on a strategy that takes advantages of the firm's opportunities and strengths while avoiding its weaknesses and threats to its success.

True False

90. The letters in "S.W.O.T. analysis" are an abbreviation for the first letters of the words "strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats."

True False

91. The letters in "S.W.O.T. analysis" are an abbreviation for the first letters of the words "special weapons or tactics."

True False

92. Segmentation is the process a manager goes through to decide which subgroups of customers to select.

True False

93. Differentiation means that the marketing mix is distinct from and better than what is available from a competitor.

True False

94. Differentiation means that the firm's marketing mix is similar to its competitors' mixes.

True False

95. Differentiation often requires a firm to fine-tune its marketing mix to meet the specific needs of its target market(s).

True False

96. Differentiation emphasizes uniqueness rather than similarity.

True False

97. Differentiation emphasizes similarity rather than uniqueness.

True False

98. The external market environment doesn't play a role in the marketing strategy planning process because it exists outside of the company.

True False

99. It is useful to think of the marketing strategy planning process as a process that begins with a narrow focus but then broadens to embrace unlimited opportunities and options.

True False

100. Marketing opportunities involving present products and present markets are called "market penetration" opportunities.

True False

101. Market penetration means trying to increase sales of a firm's present products in its present markets--probably through a more aggressive marketing mix.

True False

102. A firm which tries to increase sales by selling new products in new markets is pursuing "market development" opportunities.

True False

103. A "market development" opportunity would involve a firm offering new or improved products to its present markets.

True False

104. When a firm tries to increase sales by offering new or improved products to its present markets, this is called "product development."

True False

105. Nike moved beyond shoes and sportswear to offer its athletic target market a running watch, digital audio player, and even a portable heart-rate monitor. This is an example of a market development strategy.

True False

106. The ArrowPoint Company has just modified and enlarged its product line to meet the changing needs of its current customers. This is an example of "market development."

True False

107. When Cadillac added a new sport utility vehicle called Escalade to the "luxury-oriented" selection at its existing dealers, it was seeking "market development" opportunities.

True False

108. If Burger King added tacos to the "burger-oriented" menu in its existing restaurants, it would be seeking "market development" opportunities.

True False

109. Marketing opportunities that involve moving into totally different lines of business are "diversification" opportunities.

True False

110. Of the four types of opportunities firms can pursue, diversification is the easiest to evaluate and involves the least risk.

True False

111. The least risky--but most challenging--marketing opportunities are diversification opportunities.

True False

112. Often, attractive opportunities are fairly close to markets the firm already knows.

True False

113. When it comes to choosing among different types of opportunities, most firms tend to be production-oriented and usually think first of diversification.

True False

114.If customers in other countries are interested in the products a firm offers, or could offer, serving them may improve economies of scale.

True False

115.Unfavorable trends in the domestic marketing environment may make the international marketing environment very attractive.

True False

116.International opportunities should be considered in the strategy planning process, but they don't always survive as the most attractive ones that are turned into strategies.

True False

117.Marketing managers almost always find that opportunities in international markets are less profitable than in domestic markets.

True False

118.When a firm's domestic market is prosperous, marketing managers are less likely to pursue opportunities in international markets.

True False
